

How NextAvailable® Works

NextAvailable® works for all business types, as well as local & travelling customers!

Step 2

Customers use the NextAvailable® search engine to find businesses by name or by open appointment. There are different ways a customer can find a business:

- * By the next available appointment in a city/zip (Customer A)
- * By a specific appointment time (Customer B)
- * By part or all of the business name (Customer C)

Step 3

When the customer finds a business or appointment that meets their needs, they click to the business web page to self-schedule and confirm instantly.

Step 1

Businesses post extensive information about their company on a NextAvailable® web page. If a business offers any services by appointment, they also post their schedule online.

Business A

Business B

Business C

NextAvailable® links businesses with customers through this first-ever search engine

I need it now!
Find the next available appointment

Customer A

I'm planning ahead. Find an appointment for next Tuesday at 10am

Customer B

Find the business called "ABC"

Customer C

Step 4

Customers can also use a direct URL link to a business web page, to bypass the search engine and self-schedule directly with their favorite providers (Customer D)

My favorite business sent me their direct link so I can bypass the search engine and go straight to their NextAvailable® web page.
